It takes a community to protect a community. Informed and alert communities play a critical role in preventing crime. During your daily routine you might see something that is out of the ordinary or behavior that doesn't quite fit. These moments could be nothing, but you know what your everyday looks like, so do not let the moment pass you by – say something! When reporting suspicious activity, it is important to describe specifically what you observed, including who or what you saw, when you saw it, where it occurred, and why you believe it is suspicious.

This service gives citizens the opportunity to provide police with vital information - and remain anonymous.

Cash rewards are available for tips that lead to arrest and conviction.
